LOAN GOES WELL
Canadians purchased $58,857,700 in Victory bonds Tuesday, bringing the cumulative total for the first two days to $26,587,150. Today's cumulative total is $8,341,900 greater than the sales in the first two days of the last loan but still falls below the required daily average of $66,666,666 required to put the loan over the top.

QUIZ CONTEST UNIT FINAL IS WEDNESDAY

Contests are now being held in all public and high schools throughout the country as a feature of the fifth Victory loan campaign. Local school winners in the various groups will take part in the township contests.

King township contest was at Kettleby temperance hall last evening. Whitchurch contest is at Vandorf township hall this evening. East Gwillimbury contest at Sharon hall on Tuesday. North Gwillimbury, Georgina and Sutton contest at Sutton town hall on Monday.

The North York unit final contest will be held in the auditorium of the United church, Newmarket, next Wednesday. All meetings will start at 8 p.m. and will feature a war picture, music, addresses and other entertainment for pupils, teachers and parents. J. M. Walton, Aurora, is giving the prizes at the township contests.

KNOCKED DOWN, LEG BROKEN

Frank Stickland, Newmarket, suffered a broken leg and shock when he was knocked from his bicycle while riding east on Eagle St., opposite the old Anglican cemetery, on Monday evening. Mr. Stickland had been working at Mulock's farm on Yonge St.

The driver of the car did not stop.

An army truck is believed to have been responsible. Chief Constable J. E. Sloss is investigating.

WIN KING CONTEST

The winners in the quiz contest for King township are: group A, Doris Heynon, Temperanceville; group B, Donald Rainey, Schomberg; and group C, Betty Sypema, Kettleby.

School quiz contests will be held at Vandorf tonight, Sutton Monday night, Sharon Tuesday night, and Newmarket Wednesday night.

LAC Ken Ponting has returned to Ottawa after spending the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ponting.

BOY IS FIRST BUYER
First Victory bond sold in Newmarket went to a public school youngster, Harry J. Daley, 99 Prospect St.

And it was a cash deal. Harry, who works after school in Luck's meat market, walked into Victory loan headquarters on Monday morning and laid down $50, to start Newmarket off on her way to the campaign objective.

BOXING SHOW WILL GIVE LOAN BOOST

Lieut. F. J. White, Newmarket training centre, will speak in the interests of the Victory loan campaign at the Newmarket Veterans' boxing and wrestling show in Newmarket arena this evening.

"Red" Britt and Al Stevens will put on the main boxing bout, and Harold Craddock and Pete Perno will meet in the wrestling feature.

President Alf. Smith is the promoter of the show.

BUSINESS MEN WILL MEET ON OCTOBER 28

A meeting is being held at the town hall, Newmarket, for all merchants and employees of Newmarket and district, on Oct. 28, at 8.15 p.m. to discuss war-time operating and supply problems. The speaker will be M. W. Lapp, consultant, management service division, assisted by regional officers of the war-time prices and trade board.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Newmarket Retail Business Men's Association.

PRESENT SILVERWARE TO COL. R. B. HARKNESS

Lt.-Col. and Mrs. R. B. Harkness were the recipients of a lovely chest of silverware following the concert at the drill hall at No. 23 B.T.C., on Tuesday evening. Col. Harkness is retiring.

Following Col. Harkness' farewell speech at the close of the concert, Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, on behalf of the Newmarket Citizens' committee, called Mrs. Harkness to the platform and gave an address and H. E. Lambert made the presentation. Col. and Mrs. Harkness gave fitting replies.

Both Dr. Dales and Col. Harkness commented on the co-operative spirit between the camp and the citizens of Newmarket. Col. Harkness hoped that Major N. R. Young will have the same co-operation that he has enjoyed.

SCOUTS DO WELL

Newmarket Boy Scouts, in spite of the intermittent fall of rain, had a record fall of silver into their apple day collection cans on Saturday. Gross receipts neared $175.

Sgt. Hunt Taylor, Wainwright, Alta., is spending two weeks furlough with his mother, Mrs. Thos. Taylor.

VICTORY LOAN SWINGS AWAY TO GOOD START

First two days of the Victory loan campaign showed North York returns of $105,750. Aurora had reported $5,400. Newmarket, $45,700, East Gwillimbury, $5,250, King, $22,450.

W. L. Bosworth, Newmarket, was leading all salesmen with 20 applications and a total of $23,050.

Weather permitting there will be war pictures shown in front of Trinity United church, Newmarket, Saturday evening at 9 p.m. Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales and Rev. Henry Cotton will give three-minute loudspeaker addresses.

Aubrey Davis, Newmarket, is North York chairman, and H. L. Trapp, Toronto business man, with campaign headquarters at Newmarket, is organizer.

"That's No Argument Against Buying Bonds"

Waste in war industry, in government, or as a result of labor disputes is no reason for not buying Victory bonds, Capt. R. P. D. Hicks, Protestant padre at Newmarket training camp, said at Trinity United church on Sunday morning.

"With all the waste there is—I do not suggest that there should be waste—we are getting there," he said. "If we give to the war effort in spite of the waste, we will be doing our part."

"Waste comes from inexperience, from laziness, from greed," he said, urging everybody to do more than his duty. "Let us strive as earnestly as we can to be profitable servants. Let us forget the rules and regulations and do more than is required of us."

Soldiers from the Newmarket camp paraded to Trinity church.

IS NOT WOUNDED

Cpl. Thos. Smith was not, as was reported earlier, wounded in action, according to further word received by his wife. The first report had been sent in error.

Newmarket Council Moves To Relieve School Congestion

Two Classrooms Have 49 Pupils, Three 47, Ten Over 40, School Board Secretary Tells Council

Members of Newmarket town council agreed on Monday evening that some action would be necessary to provide another teacher in the public schools, and asked the finance committee to make the necessary arrangements.

The council received the following letter from Secretary R. L. Pritchard: "On Sept. 30th 563 pupils were enrolled in our three public schools. That is 30 pupils more than last year and is the highest in the history of our town. Two classrooms have 49 pupils each, three have 47 each. The others have from 34 to 43.

"The department of education does not consider it possible for a teacher to give proper instruction to a class of more than 40 pupils. Ten of our 14 rooms have over 40 pupils. In fairness to the children and teachers your board feels that the present classes should be reduced to approximately 40 per room. In order to do so it will be necessary to add another teacher to our staff and open up the room closed last fall.

"In making up our budget for 1943 we did not figure on this extra expense. Our grants are largely based on the actual attendance for the last school year and the amount paid in teachers' salaries. All grants are subject to reduction of ten to 15 percent if the government budget is not sufficient. If the department cuts our grant 15 percent it will mean a reduction of about $400 in our receipts. It places the board in a rather awkward position because we never know within $500 what we will receive.

"Our estimates for 1943 were based on the grant received for 1942. We will be able to meet all budgeted expenses but we will not be able to meet the salary of another teacher if there is any reduction in our grants, which will not be paid until late in November.

"At the last meeting of the board a motion was duly passed instructing the writer to apply to the town council for $300 to cover the expense of employing another teacher for the balance of the year.

"Please present this application to the finance committee at the next meeting of the council. We feel sure it will receive favorable consideration. Prompt action will be appreciated in order that we may secure a teacher with as little delay as possible.

"In the first place, school rates are levied separately and I don't think you can make a grant if you want to," said N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk and solicitor. "You can't raise money for one purpose and use it for another. And then if you give the money to the public school board you will have to give a corresponding amount to the separate school board. The public school board will have to get by until next year."

"Can't they borrow money?" asked Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"No," said Reeve Fred A. Lundy. "I don't think anyone will quarrel with them running a deficit."

"We have to supply money one way or another," said Councillor Joseph Vale. "We either have to make a grant or let them run a deficit."

"Don't you think it is essential that there should be another teacher?" asked Councillor J. L. Spillette. "Isn't there some way in which it can be arranged?"

"The only thing we can do is to give encouragement and approval to the board," said Mayor Dales. "If you had a child in a class of 40 you would feel differently," he told Mr. Mathews.

"I don't say that they don't need a teacher, but that we can't make a grant legally," said Mr. Mathews. "Besides, they got just as much money for one teacher less as they got the year before."

"This is an indication of progress," said Dr. Dales. "There are a lot of children in this town."

"If the grant is illegal, let them run a deficit," suggested Mr. Vale.

"A lot of things that may not be legal are done in this town on the assumption that if they are reasonable no one will object," said Dr. Dales.

"Refer it to the finance committee and we will find a way out," said Reeve Lundy. The council agreed to this suggestion.

N. WHITFIELD WINS RUG AT BENEFIT EUCHRE

A lovely rug, made and given by Mrs. N. Laker, Eagle St., realized $12 at the benefit euchre held in the town hall Friday evening. The rug was won by Norman Whitfield, manager of Cousins Dairy.

A $5 prize was won by Mrs. Thos. Raymond, a dollar of which was given back to the fund.

The prize winners of the euchre were Norman Whitfield, Mrs. Thos. Alderson and Mrs. Max Smith, all of whom gave their prizes back, and A. E. West, B. Townsley, and Mrs. L. Wright.

HAS TALE TO TELL

Frank Laskier, who will speak in Newmarket factories during the Victory loan, says of himself, "I am an Englishman, a sailor and my name is Frank." He has had three ships sunk from under him and has lost a leg at sea.

JOINS R.C.A.F.

Mrs. Edith Slade, Prospect Ave., left last Friday to join the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, and is now stationed at Rockcliffe. Her husband, Pte. Jack Slade, is overseas with the 48th Highlanders. Airwomen Slade was employed for some time at the Office Specialty and upon leaving was presented by her fellow workers with a handsome writing compact in air force blue leather with crest. Other friends gave a matching billfold and a leather photograph case. Airwoman Slade expressed her appreciation of the hospitality shown her by her neighbors during her stay here.

TOWN WILL NOT LEND EQUIPMENT, IS RULING

President Alfred Smith of the Newmarket Veterans Association received permission to hold a "poppy day" on Saturday, Nov. 6, at a town council meeting on Monday evening.

The remuneration of B. W. Hunter, town assessor, was increased from $450 to $500 on the motion of Reeve F. A. Lundy and Councillor Joseph Vale.

After discussion the council ruled that in the future town equipment will not be rented or loaned, except for two articles, a sewer rod, for which the rent is $2, and a hand-pump which is rented at $2 a day for pumping out cellars.

The council requested N. L. Mathews, K.C., town clerk and solicitor, to write a letter of appreciation to Lieut.-Col. R. B. Harkness on the occasion of his retirement as commanding officer of No. 23 B.T.C., Newmarket.

The council decided that the Victory loan "thermometer" would be set up at the town clerk's office as during the last campaign. Councillors expressed themselves in favor of Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales arranging a Saturday evening outdoor Victory loan demonstration. The event scheduled for last Saturday was cancelled because of the rain.

FORMER KESWICK MAN TAKES BRIDE

A pretty wedding took place in Ryerson United church, Hamilton, on Friday evening when Miss Elaine Newell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Newell, Paris, Ont., was united in marriage to Flight-Lieut. Robert Angus Cowleson, R.C.A.F., Toronto, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John B. Cowleson, formerly of Keswick. Rev. C. E. J. Cragg performed the ceremony. Mrs. Earle Moore sang the Lord's Prayer and Rev. Leslie Leman played the wedding music. The church was decorated with cerise 'mums and ferns.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of gardenia white satin, with transparent yoke and full skirt extending into a train. Her filmy veil of heliconia lace fell from a Queen Anne headress. She carried a cascade of pink roses. Mrs. Herbert Merry, Oakville, matron of honor, and Mrs. Joseph Harris, Hamilton, bridesmaid, wore similarly fashioned full-length gowns of white sheer, with shoulder-length veils falling from Juliet caps of white satin. They carried cascade bouquets of cerise baby 'mums.

Squadron-Leader Roy Nunn was best man and the usher was Lieut. Clifford Atkinson, Toronto.

At the reception held in the Scottish Rite temple, the bride's mother received wearing a black floor-length gown trimmed with sequins and a corsage of white 'mums. Also receiving were Mrs. Clare Sheppard, Toronto, aunt of the groom, in a coral serene gown, and Mrs. Oscar Clarke, Toronto, in a gold silk jersey dress. Both wore corsages of bronze pom-poms.

For travelling the bride donned a dove blue frock of silk crepe, matching hat and coat of blond camel hair, with brown accessories and a corsage of baby 'mums.

Miss Newell was formerly supervisor of music on the staff of Oakville public schools.

There is no charge for birth and deaths listed in The Era and Express unless special requirements are made as to wording.

Mayor Thanks Davis Brothers

"The greatest advance in a quarter of a century," says Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales of the expansion program of York County hospital.

"A true and unselfish spirit at heart responding generously to a great need has always characterized the citizens of Newmarket whether rich or poor," says Dr. Dales in a statement this week. "The answer to the repeated calls for help in supplying beds and cribs, rooms and equipment for the sick and helpless has been the generous gift of the Margaret Davis memorial wing to York County hospital."

"The generosity of the Davis brothers will be remembered by many generations. Newmarket citizens will be asked to assist in making our local hospital safe and pleasant for its future patients, and I am sure they will and must respond in the same manner.

"A word of appreciation at this time must be offered to the trustees of the hospital for their efficient management and unselfish service.

"The council and citizens of Newmarket, through myself as mayor, take pleasure in extending a salute to the Davis brothers at this time."

Sharon Church Marks 75th Birthday With Honor Roll

DAUGHTER OF MAN WHO GAVE LAND IS CENTURY OLD AURORA RESIDENT

Large congregations attended the anniversary services of the Sharon United church on Sunday, when the members and adherents celebrated the 75th anniversary of the church. The lawn on which the church is built was given by Judah Landy in the year 1868, and it is believed that the church was built that year.

Mrs. Ellen Pearson, Aurora, who will celebrate her 100th anniversary in April of next year, is a daughter of Judah Landy, but Mrs. Pearson, on account of her great age, is not able to give any definite information regarding the building of the church.

Sharon church was built as a Methodist church and belonged to the Queensville circuit for many years. There were five appointments in the Queensville circuit with two ministers, a senior minister, who had full charge of the circuit, and a junior minister, who assisted him in taking care of the large field. The Queensville charge consisted of Queensville, Keswick, Ravenshoe, Sharon and Hope.

In the year 1909 a new arrangement was made and Sharon severed connection with Queensville and became part of a new circuit, which included Hope and Holland Landing, with the Rev. J. A. Callan as the minister. Those three appointments continued as a circuit until the union of the Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian churches in 1925, when the churches of Keswick and Ravenshoe that had formed a circuit with Queensville were made a charge, and Sharon and Hope were joined with Queensville to form the Queensville charge.

This new charge came into being in 1926, with Rev. A. Partridge, now of Beaverton, as the first minister. There have been

HANDSOME GIFT

The new hospital wing which will be given to York County hospital by the three Newmarket Davis brothers will mean much to northern York county. No longer will halls be encumbered with beds, and no longer will patients have to be turned away because room is not available. Aurora and Newmarket doctors will have a modern and convenient hospital to which to take their patients.

Hospital and health insurance plans, and child bonus schemes, may of course so greatly increase the use of our hospital that, before many years go by, it will be crowded again, but there could be no better evidence of appreciation of the hospital facilities. And when expansion again becomes necessary it is hoped that the hospital, town and district have such public-spirited friends as the donors of the Margaret Davis memorial wing.

WHAT WE LEND WE GET BACK TO LEND AGAIN

Strange as it seems, the more money Canada borrows the more she can borrow. The loan objectives gradually mount as the nation borrows and spends greater and greater amounts. This is more noticeable in war-industry communities like Orillia, where the loan objective has gradually gone up from $400,000 in the first loan to $1,000,000 in this loan. North York has no considerable war industry, but has felt the quickening stimulus of the greater volume of money in circulation, and has given a better account of herself in each loan. Once again the objective is "upped" and once again it will be achieved.

BIGGER BITE

Canada is dependent for prosperity on trading with the rest of the world. Canadians cannot consume all the food products that they grow or can grow, or even use all the motor-cars or leather (to mention a Newmarket product) that they manufacture. The post-war organization of the world is therefore important to Canada not only because we do not want another war but also because we want to trade and live and prosper. The Atlantic Charter's promise of equal access to the markets and raw materials of the world (if we don't misquote it) is something Canadians should support and press for. Must we return to a world of tariff barriers and higgling trade treaties?

Difficulties in the way of a satisfactory post-war settlement are almost insuperable if we are going to have a world of sovereign nations kept in peace by a "big four." For instance, Russia, for reasons of safety, will keep part of Poland, to protect whose integrity Britain and France declared war! Russia would also retain the little Baltic countries, part of wronged Finland, and maybe great slices of China. The United States would require naval and air bases all over the world. Britain, also for reasons of security, would want Hong Kong, Singapore, Egypt, the Suez canal, Gibraltar, India and scores of other "sore points."

Italy, now a "co-belligerent," would no doubt claim restoration of at least some of her African colonies, yet Italy, under Mussolini, played a major part in breaking down the peace with her aggression against Ethiopia. Then there is Germany. Some people want to break her up into impotent little pieces. That would remove Germany as a major power but it would also remove her as part of the world's prosperity, just as it would pauperize Canada to break this dominion up into nine separate nations, each with its own tariffs.

We need larger economic units—in fact, we need but one economic area, one world organization. If, at the conclusion of this war, we are big enough to yield our various sovereignties—the power to make war and maintain armed forces, to make tariffs and exclude goods—to a world state, we will find many of these other problems solved. Poland's boundaries, India's independence, Italy's colonies, Germany's boundaries will not matter so greatly. There will still be the problem of emigration and the exclusion of African and Asiatic races from European-settled areas, but that is not too big a problem for eventual solution, provided that there is a world government. Without world government this race problem could well develop into the cause of other and, for us, disastrous world wars. Let us build a world state while there is yet time.

NOT THE SAME BIRD

The Era and Express told last week of a partridge killing itself when it crashed through a Newmarket house window. The Smiths. Falls Record-News last week told of a partridge killing itself when it swooped into a store window which did not break. There was a difference of four days between the two incidents, and it was not the same bird involved in the two accidents. Otherwise, we think, there are present the elements of a coincidence.

NEWMARKET AND AURORA INTERESTED

The new minister of highways, Hon. Geo. H. Doucett, recently completed an inspection of Ontario highways between Toronto and Kenora. He said that the "bottle-neck" between Toronto and Huron must be corrected. The Toronto Telegram reports: "Mr. Doucett declined to discuss what route the improved road would take, but he said all plans will be considered before a definite route is decided on, including plans for a route around the south and east end of Lake Simcoe via Beaverton, to link Toronto directly with Orillia."

Newmarket and Aurora are interested in such a highway, which should begin at Aurora or Armistage and angle across, perhaps south of Newmarket to the Lake Simcoe highway and possibly follow the "catering road" from Queensville across country, south of and near Sutton, to the No. 12 highway. Newmarket and Aurora are interested in the completion of the Peterboro-Orangeville highway.

WEEKLY PRESS ADVANCES

The Fergus News-Record announces that effective Jan. 1, 1944, subscriptions to that well-known weekly newspaper will automatically stop at expiration. The News-Record will be among an increasing number of weekly newspapers that follow this more business-like and satisfactory practice. It was seven years ago that the Newmarket Era, since absorbed into The Newmarket Era and Express, announced its paid-in-advance policy. In this part of the province the Alliston Herald and the Barrie Examiner are among weeklies which discontinue subscriptions at expiration. Newmarket was the Ontario pioneer but there are many other paid-in-advance weeklies now.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

HOG OUTPUT IN DANGER

(Stouffville Tribune)

Members of the bacon board and officials at Ottawa may well fear that their commitments for bacon for Britain cannot be maintained, and one or two ways of boosting the output or maintaining it at the present high level are suggested. One is to guarantee present prices for two years instead of one. To this suggestion we imagine there will be little attention, since the farmer is concerned only with the price of bacon for a year ahead at any rate. He will not jump into producing hogs on a close margin just because the price is guaranteed for two years instead of one.

The second suggestion made is more sound, we imagine. That is to make a general increase in the price paid by packing plants, probably in the form of an extra payment per hundred pounds, made on government account by packers when they buy their supplies.

The fact that prices for little pigs have fallen badly and the demand dropped noticeably around Stouffville is a signal that all is not well and that the farmer is not satisfied. The warning sign cannot be ignored.

AFTER THE WAR

(Richmond Hill Liberal)

Almost every newspaper and magazine we pick up these days has something in it about the post-war world we are to fashion after the heart's desire. Much of the discussion has to do with material considerations—the building of many homes, the uses of plastic, synthetic rubber, etc., but if one carefully analyzes the plans that are being made by the Canadian government as part of the rehabilitation and post-war recovery program, one cannot fail to note the predominance of the thought that human welfare must be the first and all abiding concern. Employment and health insurance, care for the infirm and the aged go hand in hand in that program with measures to equalize opportunities for all in the economic scheme of things.

And, best of all, these plans of the Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie King and his cabinet are based on the realities of life and must have the approval of social and economic authorities who actually know conditions and who have definite knowledge of the value and lack of value of the various remedies proposed to improve these conditions. The remedies must be practical and effective, not socialistic dreams that never, never can come true, and vote-snaring promises of politicians who would seriously promise to bring heaven down to earth just to try to assure their own election.

If, however, we would make Canada the country that it can be made, the dominion Mr. King, the Hon. W. P. Mulock, our own member, and their colleagues in the dominion cabinet would like to make it, we must also accept the part of the job allotted to us, that of co-operating with the government by refusing to become entangled in the meshes of political sophistry and ensnared as were the people of Italy ensnared into casting aside a tried form of government for something that seems more attractive.

GAMBLING

(Orillia Packet and Times)

The advent of an attorney-general who will back the police and the courts in the enforcement of the laws, instead of apologizing to those who break them, when they get into trouble, will work a transformation in the administration of justice in Ontario. The statement made by the Hon. Leslie Blackwell that the provincial police will have his support in enforcing the gambling laws will put heart into that body, and spells the death knell of the slot-machine nuisance. Already the machines have quietly disappeared from Orillia, discretion being considered wiser than risking their destruction, accompanied by heavy fines, which was their fate in Barrie.

THERE'S STILL A WAR

(Barrie Examiner)

Those people who did a lot of premature rejoicing when Italy dropped out of the war have probably learned by now that Italy's capitulation by no means ends the war. The hardest phases, as both Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill have said, are yet to come. Some people blame Prime Minister King for this premature celebrating, and perhaps they are right. But this one thing should be remembered. The prime minister is carrying a tremendous burden. He is facing daily greater problems than most of us face in a whole lifetime. It cannot but have its effect on a man. It seems to us then, it was quite natural that Mr. King should display a bit of over-optimism when the three Axis powers were reduced to two.

COUNCIL VACANCIES

(Huntville Tribune)

Down in Bowmanville, where a by-election had to be held to fill a council vacancy, only 332, out of a possible vote of over 2,000, went to the polls. This result indicates that a change in the Municipal Act might profitably be made, empowering a council to fill such a vacancy without a public vote. Such an expression of opinion as was obtained at Bowmanville is entirely meaningless as a measure to test public opinion.

Of People And Things

DINNERS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

Dinners, I suppose, are so much a part of our daily life—routine matters—that the only time we give them a thought is when we are preparing them, or eating them.

Like everything else, though, they have taken on a new status—a sort of aloof importance. It used to be that meat—well, meat was just meat; we could have the choicest cuts if our funds were flourishing, or the cheaper cuts, if our wallets were thin. Now, meat is a haughty product: if you forget your ration book, or if you've used your rations not wisely, but too well, a meat famine stares you in the face.

In the spring the price of vegetables soared into the blue empyrean, but now, if you have a garden which has not been visited by marauding cows, why, vegetables are just fine.

But come dessert, another problem faces you—you look at your sugar rationing, what there is of it, in lonely state in the bottom of your once well-filled container, and you shake your head sadly—little to do so much. You dream wistfully of corn syrup, but you want to save your D coupons for marmalade, but you measure out a little sugar and a little syrup with miserly care, and achieve a pudding, and glow with pride, because it is an edible pudding in spite of everything and you feel a sense of achievement you never felt in days of yore, when sugar and syrup were in your larder as a matter of course, not as a dispensation of government and your own ingenuity.

Well, with this introduction I'll come down to something I wanted to say a few words about.

I'd really like to meet the person who invented—that isn't the right word, but I haven't time to think about it—pot luck dinners.

We used to hear of people being invited to take pot luck with their friends, but that just meant sharing an impromptu meal. These pot luck dinners are different.

Of course I heard of one in Toronto, which a friend of mine attended where EVERYBODY brought macaroni and cheese. One can imagine that that particular dish would not be very popular in that group for a little while.

In our community we have one once a month for relief and was work—mostly quilting. One line brings the first course—the other, dessert, and so far, it has worked out well. We do not transgress any ration rules and yet we have excellent dinners, thoroughly enjoyed in congenial company and with appetites sharpened by work.

At the last one, at the home of Mrs. Ed Johnston, we had baked potatoes, macaroni and cheese, carrots, bread and butter and pie. We took up a five-cent collection to give our next hostess that she might buy some unrationed meat and this will be done next month.

Two quilts were quilted—these were for a home mission box, but all the others to be done will travel to Britain.

It seems to me the war is an ingenuously sharpener. We HAVE to eat, most of us like variety and so we are putting on our thinking caps and finding how to combine this and that and make SOME-THING.

Have you ever read a book—not excluding the Bible and not including text books, wherein a meal did not show up? I've read a description of a meal by Charles Dickens, which made me so hungry, I felt I must go and eat. So, dinners are important as health builders, as ingenuously try-outs, as artistic triumphs and—well just dinners.

WEEDS IN BLOOM

SHOULD BE REMOVED

(By Rudy Hanzl, Newmarket Horticultural Society)

October is our most beautiful month, with all the trees and shrubs turning colors from bright yellow to the most brilliant red. The gardener must watch his plants, as some parts of the country already have had frost.

All tender plants should now be indoors, and it is time to collect the fallen leaves, either for the compost heap or for the protection of the plants as cover. Weeding is continued until snow covers the plants. It is particularly important to remove weeds in bloom or seed. Many hardy perennials can still be put in.

I just divided and planted several varieties of rock garden plants and I am expecting a couple of cherries from shortly. If by the way, you want to plant cherry trees, you want to plant at least two varieties, for the sake of pollination. One tree will not give you any cherries as most of them are self-sterile and require a pollinator of a different variety cherry.

Dig your canna, gladiol, begonias and dahlias. Canna should be dug and placed under cover before frost touches them. Leave some earth on the roots, let them dry two weeks and after that they are stored in a dry, cool cellar.

The tops are cut off the gladiol close to the crown, brush or wash off all earth and dry in a paper place. Store in a temperature around 40 degrees.

Cut down dahlias to the ground, leave tops lying on the roots for a week to ripen the eyes around the crown, then lift and clear from soil.

Plants in boxes with dry soil or pot packed tightly around roots, store in a dry place safe from frost. Tuberosa begonias should be dried with soil attached. Store where fairly humid and around 60 degrees.

King Boy Takes Sharon Boys' Swine Club Honors

Climaxing a summer of interesting work 11 members of the Sharon Boys' Swine Club exhibited their young purebred Yorkshire sows at Sharon on Saturday with several of the parents an interested spectators. Last spring each boy started out with two young sows, most of them purebred, and kept records of feed and growth throughout the summer.

An in all those boys' clubs, the prizes are awarded on the boys' care and feeding of his animals, attendance at meetings, regularity of reports, judging, examination, showmanship and score on the pigs exhibited. Elgin Hann, Toronto, a member of the dominion government hog grading service, was delighted with the class of young sows shown, ten of which were from advanced registry stock and will receive a grant of $2 each from the Council of Canadian Meat Packers.

The standing of the boys is as follows: Ewart Jennings, King, Perry Winch, Keswick, Gordon McNern, Sharon, William Smith, Queensville, William Williams, King, Charles Williams, King, Clare Penrose, R. GOD SAVE THE KING

"If money go before, all ways lie open."

Shakespeare

OUR FIGHTING FORCES are now definitely on their way to Rome, Berlin and Tokyo.

True it is that the roads they must travel may be long and tortuous with death and danger lurking at every turn. The going may be slow and tough but, with steady though heavy step, our men will trudge every mile with grim determination, yet with inspired enthusiasm—for Victory is in sight.

To make easier and shorter the way for these, our gallant fighting men, is the part and privilege granted those who remain behind. That we may encourage them and lighten their task by our unstinted efforts to speed the needed equipment. That we may by our self-denial make available the monies needed to assure their superiority in air, sea and land. Thus shall we make smoother the ways, and shorten the days, towards the triumphal entry of our fighting men into Rome, Berlin and Tokyo.

With Half an Eye

The old saying has it that some things are so obvious that they can be seen with half an eye. Yet many people today, with two "good" eyes . . . see only half as well as they should. A reduction in visual efficiency, even to a small degree, means a corresponding loss of the delights of sharp, clear vision.

Eyeglass may fail gradually, so slowly that it is not apparent. The only certain way to tell if eyeglass is efficient is by thorough eye examination. If you would be sure of your eyes, have them examined soon.

Enjoy the full use of your precious eyes. CORECTAL LENSES give full wide-angle vision, right to the very edge. Enquire about them when you have your eyes examined.

CHRISTADELPHIANS

"The Kingdom of God" was the great subject matter of the Gospel preached by Jesus and His apostles. Jesus taught His disciples to pray "Thy kingdom come." When it is established it will be a glorious manifestation of God's power on earth through the personal intervention of His son from heaven at the appointed time. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God." Matt. 6: 33, Luke 11: 2, Acts 23: 2, Acts 1: 3.

In Memoriam

Carley—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Wm. H. Carley, who passed away two years ago, on Oct. 11, 1911.
Oh, what would we give to clasp your hand;
Your dear, kind face to see;
Your loving smile, your welcome voice
That meant so much to us.
No one knows the silent heart-ache
Only those who have such can tell
Of the grief that is borne in silence
For the one we loved so well.
Fondly remembered by husband and family.

O'Brien—In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, John H. O'Brien, who passed away Oct. 25, 1937.
Today recalls and memories
Of a dear father gone to rest,
And the ones who think of him today
Are the ones who loved him best.
Always remembered by Marguerite, Allan and grandchildren.

O'Brien—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John H. O'Brien, who passed away Oct. 25, 1937.

Thoughts of you are ever near.

SERVES OVER THERE

'NOT PLEASANT BUT CHANGES MUST COME'

"Change is uncomfortable," says Headmaster Joseph McCulley in a service club address printed in the current issue of "The Voyager," Pickering College year-book, which is recently off the press.

Mr. McCulley gave the address to the Toronto and Montreal Rotary clubs.

"We must, however, recognize that we are living in one of the great periods in human history, when change, which is the normal expression of life, becomes more rapid—when all our customs and conventions become subject to profound modification," says Mr. McCulley. "We must rid ourselves of any notion that we can put the clock back. When the bugles blew in August, 1914, they marked the end of our old world of easy optimism, our old world of privilege for some and mass misery for others, our old world of expanding frontiers, our old world of imperialist and nationalist rivalries. We were not conscious of it at the time, but two wars and the long armistice have made the fact increasingly evident.

"If any of us were asked what we are fighting for, we might answer in one word, 'Democracy.' I am afraid, however, that we really mean our own old way of life, which we, the more or less privileged of our society, have found comfortable and pleasant, in other words, the 'status quo.' This is not good enough. A new democracy must come to birth out of the fires of the present struggle.

"There must be a reinterpretation of the doctrine of liberty, not only in political but also in economic terms. In our countries, political democracy has been more or less achieved but we are far from achieving an economic democracy.

"Post-war government must eliminate economic chaos and restore to the world a new order. It is surely evident that, in our modern, complex, highly interdependent world, such a doctrine is no longer valid. In varying ways, nazism, fascism, communism, the 'New Deal,' the Marxist report and the Beveridge report are all manifestations of the fact that in a modern society the welfare of each is the responsibility of all.

"We cannot tolerate any recurrence of depression conditions when 400,000 young Canadians went begging for work and when one-third of the population of the United States was living below a minimum subsistence level.

"Furthermore, organization to eliminate economic chaos must be more than national in its scope. It has become fashionable in some quarters to be cynical about the League of Nations, but it was not an idle dream; it was an expression of man's deep yearning for a better world. Surely we have learned that no nation can any longer consider itself an isolated, independent, self-sufficient, sovereign and responsible only to itself. Surely we know now that no nation or race can be considered inferior because of the color of its people or the stage of its cultural development. The only possibility of human progress depends on a universal recognition of the fact that men everywhere must co-operate or die.

"In our western democracies we have developed a 'gimme' theory of democracy with all the emphasis on rights and privileges and few on duties and responsibilities. There must be recognition by all men of their common obligation to each other and, therefore, to the community. This truth was long ago expressed by a great teacher—He that will save his life shall lose it; he that will lose his life, the same shall find it.

"Or, as H. G. Wells has said, 'There is no peace—no security—no righteous leadership or kingship unless men lose themselves in something greater than themselves.' "Our leaders say that changes of this nature mean a revolution in our way of life; it is only if our 'new order,' when it is formed, is based upon such principles of Christian democracy that the present struggle can be justified."

Lend Now To Forge Post-War Link—Pastor

"We must pay for the privilege of maintaining our freedom, and one of our duties comes this week," declared Rev. Roy Hicks in his sermon, "Land of Hope and Glory," on Sunday morning at Aurora United church. It was Victory Loan Sunday.

"We are all paying the cost of freedom and there is hardly a home in the community that is not affected in some way by the war," said Mr. Hicks. "We have a great opportunity to do the best we can with what God has entrusted to us for the welfare of humanity. Ours is a noble heritage, we must be prepared to make sacrifices to meet the challenge of the present and prepare ourselves for a changed world when peace comes, with all its great problems to be solved."

Canada, he said, was bounded by three oceans and was a connecting link between the old world, the Far East and the new world.

"We find today that what we once regarded as separating us from the rest of the world is now linking us more closely to it," Mr. Hicks said. "Our relations with the Americas will be greater after the war than at present," he felt.

"We have an active destiny to bring the old and the new worlds closer together. A new world, a new day is coming. We must be prepared to face it."

Junior Girl Jumps Record Of 13 Feet Five Inches

Favored with real autumn weather, Aurora high school students held their annual field day on Friday with a card of 30 events. Preliminaries were held early in the week and Principal J. H. Knowles and his staff had things working with precision and efficiency.

There was a fair attendance of spectators, although not as many as in other years. Absence of rain had made the ground hard, and the jumping pit a dust bowl, keeping down the records for the various events.

Two records fell by the boards. In the junior girls' running broad jump, Marie Wilson leaped 13'5", to break the 1940 record of Mavis Sisman by three inches. The record was set after Miss Wilson had tied for first with Jolyne Doolittle.

Douglas Pratt, whose home is in Hawaii, cracked the intermediate pole vault record set by Warren ("Wink") Barnard in 1933 of 8'11", when he soared to a new height of 9'1". Pratt's leap was made in a special trial, as he did not enter the regular event, thinking he could not do well, and in a practice vault amazed all and sundry with his form and ability.

Annexing six events and amassing a 40-point total, double that of his nearest rival, Garfield Doolittle romped home with the senior boys' class. Mavis Sisman and Verna Bryson tied for the girls' title with 17 points each.

Bill Mundell, former public school champion, in his first year at high school, took the intermediate boys' class with 39 points. The opposition in this class and in the intermediate girls' section was particularly keen. Audrey Trent won the intermediate girls' honors. Keith Kyle and Marie Wilson won junior honors.

The runners-up were: senior boys, Bruce Hulse; senior girls, Joyce McLeod; intermediate boys, Don Stephenson; intermediate girls, Jacqueline Thomson; junior boys, Ken Richards; junior girls, Joyce Pattenden.

Team honors went to the white team, captained by Rosa Atkinson and Joyce McLeod. They had a good margin on the other five teams. Relay races were held over until Monday afternoon, but they did not affect the team championship.

Fred Harvie was starter, Wilfred Adams timer, Charles Seath field manager and John Crysdale and Tenn Patterson time clerks. Each teacher was in charge of a class and non-competing students acted as officials. The Junior Red Cross vended hot dogs, chocolate milk and other delicacies from a booth on the grounds.

The results were as follows: Senior boys' standing broad jump, G. Smith, 8'5 1/2"; Bruce Hulse, 8'0"; Doolittle, 7'10"; Don Stephenson, 10'3"; Hulse, Peter Crysdale; 1 mile, Bruce McGuire, 6 min. 15 sec.; Doolittle, Ross Atkinson.

High jump, McGuire, 4'0 1/2"; Doolittle, Atkinson, 3'8 yds.; Doolittle, 2 min. 21 sec.; McGuire, Atkinson; 100 yds., Doolittle, 11 sec.; Cry-

Intermediate boys: high jump, Charlie McNaught, 4'11"; Bill Mundell, Don Stephenson; discus, McNaught, 103'9"; Eric Smith, David Johnson; pole vault, Stephenson, 7'; Mundell, McNaught; 100 yds., Mundell, 11 2-5 sec.; Stephenson, McNaught.

LADIES REALIZE $80 FROM IMAGINARY BAZAAR

By means of an imaginary bazaar last week, when the ladies contributed what they would have spent at an ordinary bazaar for church purposes, around $80 was raised by the W.A. of Aurora United church.

HOLD FUNERAL SERVICES FOR RAILWAY VICTIM

The funeral was held at Aurora cemetery on Saturday of David L. Dukes, Bridgewater, N.S., a victim of the railway fatality at Aurora C.N.R. station on Oct. 9. Rev. Roy Hicks conducted the service.

PURCHASES BUSINESS

Joseph Jennings, Willowdale, who resided in Aurora about 15 years ago, has purchased the building and business next to the post office, occupied the past 20 years as a garage by William Morrison. It is understood the new owner will renovate the premises with living quarters in the upper story.

WILL TAG SATURDAY

Under the chairmanship of Principal J. H. Knowles of Aurora high school, a tag day will be held for the Aid to Orlans fund on Saturday.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Harry Couse, former ace hurler of the district and twice a merit player, is still at Petawawa with the Engineers and has recently been promoted to lance-corporal.

"Niba" Saigle, former Aurora softball and mercantile netminder, is back again on the briny after a visit home. "Niba" ship went as far as Sicily, but of all spots he touched at Alexandria in Egypt appeared most, especially those carriage rides along the banks of the Nile in the moonlight. He is sailing now on the boat officially christened by the Dionne quintts at Duluth.

Francis Cook, ex-member of the Older Boys' parliament for North York and last year a member of the Aurora juvenile hockey team and a student at Aurora high, is playing rugby this year for Albert College.

"Scotty" Reid, ace winger of Orillia camp last winter, who played junior hockey for Oshawa against Aurora Tigers in B company, has arrived safely overseas. The Reid family have six members, male and female, on active service.

"Joint" McComb, as we predicted last week, didn't stay long in the marines. He is now posted at Stratford, but, as we mentioned before, Kingston, Aurora, or Toronto army teams are the most likely to have him wearing a hockey sweater this year. The "Joiner" was back in North York before our last item was on the street.

Art Snodden, who a few years back was performing for Beaverton and Sutton junior teams in the local O.H.A. group and afterwards played for the Petawawa Bombarriers in the Ottawa Valley league, was married overseas at Camberley recently to Maureen Kathleen Wareham, an English girl. Snodden is a member of the Engineers.

Grimby, who has had a long and honorable career in hockey, winning both intermediate and junior C titles in the past two decades, appears likely to take the count this winter so far as organized hockey is concerned. The arena of the peach kings, built 21 years ago, has been annexed for war purposes this winter. Grimby, featuring such performers as the late George ("Shorty") Horne, Gerry Carson, Reid, Hayhoe, McVicar, Nick Burnside, later to play lacrosse and hockey with Bradford, and "Red" Farrell, now one of the best amateur referees, and well known throughout the district, won the intermediate title in 1925. Grimby juniors succeeded Aurora as junior C winners in 1940, and of that gang of peach buds every one is now on active service. A mighty fine record.

Bob Abell of Stouffville, who played hardball for the first team the boys at No. 23 B.T.C. had in Newmarket town league, is back from overseas to take a commission. Abell went over with the dental corps two years ago as a lance-jack and later transferred to the infantry where his merits were soon recognized.

Thirty years ago this month, Richmond Hill high school girls won the North York high school basketball title on an outdoor court at Newmarket high school from the Newmarket girls by a 9-1 score. The old radial line was in its glory then and over 200 spectators from the Hill came to Newmarket to cheer their favorites to victory. The champs were composed of Edith Clement, Alvin Nicol, Jean Charles, Mary Topper, Hazel Page, Frances Carleton and Nellie Page. We hesitate to name the Newmarket line-up of that era, as most of the girls don't look their age, and we won't give them away.

"Red" Mitchell of the Chicago Blackhawks will have quite a few rooters this season from old North York. Mitchell, a Toronto boy, is 31, and during the past summer lived near Richmond Hill, where he swung into community affairs and made himself quite a few friends.

Bill Thomas, now beginning his 13th year in the nonleak ranks, adds to the support the Hawks will receive locally this season. Thomas is in training at Eveleth, Minn., right now and ready for a big season.

Gordy Fanning, a utility player with Aurora Tigers back in 1940, whose home is in Willowdale, is currently playing a bantam game of football for the Ordnance rugby team in Kingston city league. Fanning, who has been on active service for three years, has also done well at softball, hardball and hockey for the R.C.O.C. boys.

Basketball requisites, according to Fred Ripp, coach of the University of Kentucky and one of the most colorful figures in the cage sport, include the possession of the following attributes, able to move with "the footwork of a boxer, catch and throw a ball with the 'give' and deftness of 'Rabbit' Maraville, and be as tireless as Glenn Cunningham."

"Girl cagers" will be introduced to the district this winter in all their glory, as the C.W.A.C. girls at Newmarket camp and Aurora Ordnance depot will both put teams on the floor for competition. The Newmarket girls are already practicing in the drill hall, while the Aurora cuties have secured the use of the high school gym and will soon see action.

Charlie Case, local hockeyist and softballer, will essay a new role as coach of the Aurora girls, and, needless to say, the team will have plenty of pep and spirit. It is not known what rules the girls will use but we do hope they play boys' rules and get away from the prevailing girls' rules, which were good about 30 years ago but not streamlined enough now. The local secondary schools still persist in using the antiquated rules, but in Toronto and elsewhere the girls all play boys' rules with no ill effects.

Bill Armstrong, who played briefly with Aurora juniors, then went to Penetang with Bill Hancock and last year to Oshawa, is one of the youths trying out with Toronto Leafs this fall. Bill, who possesses lots of ability, will hardly make the grade this season and will probably be back in junior ranks again. He is a nephew of Bob Armstrong, who was well known in these parts as a referee and player back in Metropolitan league days.

Don Webster, grandson of Fred Webster of Glenville, and brother of "Chick" Webster, who played briefly with Newmarket camp two years ago, is another youngster with the Leafs. He played useful hockey with Providence last winter, along with "Ding" Ingoldby, who played for De La Salle here against St. Andrew's. Both boys will stick if a draft call they received last week doesn't interfere.

Ross Johnston, who played on defence for Etobicoke juniors against Aurora two years ago and was only 15 then, appears, according to press reports, to be a sure starter with the Leafs. Johnston was with Marlborough last winter, but when he played junior hockey here didn't look nearly as good as such boys as Myles Macdonald, Ross Turnbull, Nick Bangay and several others. A lot depends on the connections you have and hearing some opportunity knock. The services have, of course, eliminated the three mentioned from their big chance. Theme song for hockey for the year, as the boys go through their paces at the various training camps, appears to be the current favorite of the swing sisters entitled, "They're either too young or too old."

Frank Schellke, of Gormley, cut himself some nice shreds of "happy cabbage" (folding money) the past summer and fall with his good horse Shepperton, who captured the Canadian championship for the second time in a row. Shepperton, now retired, won $13,500 for Mr. Schellke in 14 tries, finishing first nine times, and only being out of the money twice.

Tulachmore, owned by the ex-wife of Mr. Bill Macdonald, won $13,355 in 15 tries and still makes more for the reeve of New Toronto. That should be top money for the season in Canada.

C. W. Smith, the Aurora boy who last year rode the King's Plate winner, gave up the ghost this fall after one of his poorest seasons, because of ill-health and general bad breaks on the track. Smith, however, is still one of the smartest jockeys about, and may stage a come-back next year.

Aubrey ("Dix") Clapper, born in Newmarket on Park Ave. in the house occupied by Peter Trivett, educated and obtaining his athletic certificate at Aurora, 37, the will be 38 on Feb. 9 next) started his 17th year in big-time hockey last week as he reported for duty with Art Ross' Huston Bruins at Quebec City. Clapper is now the senior player in length of service in the N.H.L., unless Frankie Boucher starts a come-back with Rangers. Johnny Gottlieb of Chicago ranks next to Clapper along with "Mush" March of the Los Angeles and George Munthe of Los Angeles. Clapper has probably, however, set an all-time record, as his entire pro career has been spent with one club.

Herbie Cain, pride of Newmarket, at 31 begins his 11th year in minor leagues, and according to all reports should be headed for a big season. He too is at Quebec City.

Bill Carr, brother of the redoubtable Frankie Carr, and son of Lieut.-Commander Bill Carr, formerly of Richmond Hill and one of the district's biggest hockey boosters, is back from overseas. Carr was never as good an athlete as Frankie but at that never received the same opportunity to star. Brother Frank is still in England with ordnance corps.

Definitive department: Winter sports, according to the way you look at it, may be described as follows: Hockey—commence trials on ice. Skiing—the shortest distance between two trees. Bob-sledding—a way of getting to the hospital at 60 m.p.h. and no traffic lights. Figure skating—a method of making money in six figures if you can skate like Sonja Henie. Dog-boganning—ask Hitler, he's doing it right now.

Warren Heenan, utility player last winter with the Newmarket Redmen, was among Canadian armored corps reinforcements arriving overseas recently. Cpl. Heenan is the son of former Ontario cabinet minister Hon. Peter Heenan, and previous to playing for No. 23 B.T.C. played for St. Michael's College.

"Blondie" Prokop, former Owen Sound star, later a member of Cleveland Barons and last year a member of Port Colborne seniors, having been honorably discharged from the Canadian army, is back again playing for the Cleveland team and rejoins his former line-mate at the Sound, Tommy Burlington, the sensational one-eyed goal producer.

Jimmy Cummings, last year one of Ontario's ace backfielders in rugby and for two years a member of Aurora junior hockey team, the last as captain, has seen practically no action owing to injuries. We were talking to Jimmy at the Indiana-Navy game and he told us his present injuries made it doubtful if he would be able to play hockey this winter. Cummings sent regards to his friends. Hockey injuries have kept him from active service. The day we saw him, brother-in-law Gordy Brennan played a swell game and scored a touchdown.

"Jimmy is one of the best backs in Canada, we could go places if we had him," said the Moose as he grinned like a kid in a hockey key, on the gridiron. Brennan doesn't spare himself and mucks in with gusto. If we remember rightly, with the possible exception of "Turk" Ferguson, no Aurora puck-chaser ever drew more penalties.

Jake Gaudier, giant Orillia boy, now an armorer, who played for Orillia juniors against Aurora and last year was with Angus seniors in the local intermediate group, was a member of the Ottawa team which played Hurricanes the same day, while Gaudier, former St. Andrew's player, was also with the Combines.

Color was provided at the game by a group of Toronto youngsters cheering, strangely enough, for Ottawa. We got a kick out of them chanting an appropriate song, which went, "Pieces of eight, pieces of eight, pieces of nine and ten. We cut the throats of other folks and sew them up again. For dead men tell no tales."

Hugh Maxton, once Canada's amateur centurion for Varsity and the famous Varsity Grade Olympic champion, looked a trim figure as a naval officer and a spectator at the game. Hugh, the Lionel Conacher, once rode into parliament on the strength of a Hopburn-King wave and his athletic record.

Lesson from Salerno

It's this:

The war isn't won yet. Disaster may stare us in the face again, just as it did at Salerno.

Victory will be ours—but it won't be a walk-over.

Let us all make this our motto: "No letting up until the last shot is fired." For if we do let up, others will pay for it... with their lives.

Bill Haskett of Newmarket, one of the leading baseball and hockey impressionists in canal-town, whose column, "Gathering the Sport Facts," has been a popular feature with Era and Express readers for the last month, is joining the R.C.
A.F. for ground crew duty. Bill has done a splendid job for sport in Newmarket and we know he'll be missed. Hardball is his big love and, while not a stand-out player himself, he knows the game from A to Z and is a walking-talking mine of information about things baseball. Last winter he gave some fine coverage along the hockey front. Good luck Bill! We know you'll do another good job, whatever your duty may be.

Benny Grant has come back to the big leagues again at an age when most players would be considered. Grant played in the nets for Owen Sound Greys the year they won the junior O.H.A. title from Newmarket 7-3. That was in 1927.
Shortly afterwards he was signed for a trial with the Leafs but Lorne Chabot and George Hains were on the scene and he never got a chance. So it was Syracuse, and other minor clubs, with annual jaunts back to the big league for trials. Two years ago at Fort Worth in the American Association he was judged the best net-minder in the minor leagues, and last season when the Texas team folded was purchased by Chicago for insurance purposes. Now he comes back to his first love and with a good possibility of playing between the pipes regularly.

Mike Karakas, former Chicago netminder, may be opposition for him if Providence doesn't sell him to Boston, but youthful Don Sutherland of Owen Sound, who guarded the twine cottage last winter in sensational style for Owen Sound against Aurora Ordnance, will definitely be hard to beat. He is one of the best prospects our eyes have seen. It would be the irony of fate for Grant to see a kid from his former home come along and grab the job from him.

Ross Follitt, according to all we hear, will line up with Maple this winter in a league to be played at Richmond Hill arena and will likely be followed by the veteran Leon Shropshire. Most of last year's King team, Doug, Palmer, Ritchie
Sayers, "Huck" Young, and Doug Carr are still available and of course the Hill is closer than Aurora arena for most of them.

Whoever is to look after hockey in Aurora this winter will have to move fast.

For that matter, "Whitey" Jones, who was a stand-out in juvenile hockey last winter and to these eyes at least the best hockey prospect developed here in many years, once he settles down to business, is already intending to play either juvenile or junior O.H.A. for Richmond Hill and that goes for another good kid, Billy Mun-dell. The Hill folks definitely mean business in hockey this season and calling these boys "teenies" is a team ready for action and then somebody break it up by means of the residence rule, spilling it for all concerned, but mostly the players.

All this can be obliterated if Aurora and Newmarket folks get moving and lay their cards on the table.
Both the kids and the fans would like to know just what is going to be done, and that goes for mercantile hockey too.

Russ Burrows of Markham, who twirled good ball for navy this summer and was once Ontario junior horse-shoe champion, is playing rugby for navy these days and doing nicely too.

Gil Heron, sensational colored athlete, whose fine soccer playing for No. 3 C.A.C.T.R. thrilled Aurora fans, just as his track, boxing and softball playing all year was a trout to watch, may have his career brought to a close. In a soccer match against the Norwegian air force, Heron fell heavily, with the result that water on the knee developed and he is still in hospital. That is one injury that seldom lets an athlete ever regain his true form.

Recently we went down to Maple Leaf Gardens to see one of Frank Tunney's wrestling shows.
It was our first "grunt and groan" show in some years and as we saw the vast crowd assemble we mar-velled at the gullibility of everybody and the showmanship skill of the Markham boy, (related to the local Tunney family), who has been able to rejuvenate the "rasa-lut" game until it is as big as it was when Jim London was in his prime.

First we saw Pat Flanagan in action against a lad from Brantford, Joe Maltch, who used to be a boxer. It was a fair sort of appetizer for what was to come. Curiously enough, Flanagan was originally known as "Whipper Watson," while the Whip was called Flanagan until by reason of press agents' work and mistaken identity they changed cognomens in England and have kept their new names since.

Jack Claybourne, dusky South African, won our approval with some fine action in the second bout.
On the street Jack looks like a colored parson and for that matter is a scholarly bird. In the ring he moves like these black panthers we read about. They call him "Gentleman" because he wrestles so cleanly. He needed all that old black magic to hold out against a husky gent called Tom Morgan, whom our companions designated as a regular ring-tail snorter, once he was aroused. He must have read the book of etiquette before entering the ring, for he was very clean in this.

John Katana, whom we last saw as a stumbling tyro in the ring is now dubbed "the Palermo panther" just as Earl McCready is called the "Aurora farmer," because both boys live in those vicinities.
Was in the semi-final against a short squat guy called Joe Bishop.
By the time John had finished with him he doubtless wished he was "deep in the heart of Texas," whence the one-armed announcer in stentorian tones had announced to the assemblage Dick Hallid.

Intermission in the bull-pen gave us a chance to see the two and we were really astounded to find spectators there in large quantities from Sutton, Newmarket, Maple and Aurora. It seemed like old home week. Got a chance too to get a close-up of some of the

COBBOURG SPORTS WRITER
CALLS WALDON "THE BEST"

The Cobourg Sentinel Star states that Harold Waldon, R.C.M.P., "is the best softball pitcher in Cobourg at the present time, barring none. He uses his head on every pitch and has an amazing variety of speeds, including a fast sinker and two or three paces of slow balls."

Waldon recently pitched a Cobourg commercial team to the town championship.

Harold Waldon is a former Keswick boy. He was prominent in sports at Newmarket high school and played softball for Keswick and Sutton before joining the R.C.M.P.

femmes who had yelled their lungs out as the boys tugged and grunted.
They were no Amazons, but for the most part a fine cross-section of Canadian feminine pulchritude.

Championship bout, or perhaps we should use a (?) before we go further, brought together "Wild Bill" Longson, a husky 239-pounder with long hair, and a scowl that Boris Karloff would find tough to match, and the challenger, "Whip-per" Watson, a debonair, matinee idol whose 219 pounds made him look like David tackling Goliath.

Frank Sinatra, the radio canary, hardly have got more applause from the gals, and certainly not as much from the sterner sex as Watson received when he entered the ring.

After the first few gallops around the ring Watson took command and the crowd ate up the antics with gusto, as what used to be called "mellerdrummer" was performed, the hero, Watson, soundly trouncing the villain, Longson, Watson's main forte was a sort of strange hold called the commando. Reference Powers, himself a former wrestler, kept pulling Watson off, letting Longson reach the ropes, and generally acting as nursemaid to the champ, much to the disgust of the crowd, including yours truly.

Some of the greatest thespian scenes we have ever seen were enacted by the trio.

Finally the referee remembered that so far as wrestling is concerned there is a curfew law in the Queen City, so after 45 minutes of mayhem and misery he dramatically halted proceedings as the crowd chanted in raucous rhythm "we want a referee." Longson of course retained his title. Something that couldn't have happened in boxing or any other sport unless Jesse James and his boys were on hand to take charge.

Were the fans mad? Did they ask for their money back? Well, they grumbled a bit, and then privately in their minds tore wonders aunter, decided "our boy," "Whipper" Bill, was robbed," and that Longson a go-and-so, wrestled every bout from the beginning, and wended their way home, happy.

The only reward the dea promoter and the two behemoths received for their work was a nice flat slice of folding money (Watson claimed to have been wrestling for expenses only) and the chance to meet again.

There were ten guests, all of whom were, like Mrs. Gilmour, born in Newmarket, and many forgotten incidents of former days were recalled. It was a delightful reunion. Mrs. Gilmour left on Sunday to visit her sisters, Misses Florence and Olive Hodge, Toronto.

RED CROSS TEA IS SPLENDID SUCCESS

The tea on Friday afternoon, sponsored by the entertainment committee of the Newmarket Red Cross was a real success. Sociability predominated throughout the afternoon and everyone reported a most pleasant time.

The Soldiers' club room was tastefully decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves and flowers, which were donated by Mrs. W. L. Kidd and Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey and arranged by Mrs. Jack King. Mrs. A. Webb and Mrs. L. W. Dales poured tea.

Mrs. Marjory Armour entertained at the piano during the afternoon. Mrs. W. R. Stephens, president of the Red Cross, received.

The committee in charge served wearing white Red Cross smocks, white shoes, and white corsages in their hair. They looked smart and lent an unusual appearance to the tea.

The entertainment committee consists of Mrs. A. J. Cody, president, Mrs. R. L. Pritchard, secretary, Mrs. J. E. Morris, treasurer, committee, Mrs. Chester Rest, Mrs. R. D. Brown, Mrs. J. O. Little, Mrs. Thos. Lench, Mrs. Ted Robinson, Mrs. J. Blackstock, Mrs. C. S. Gilbert and Mrs. G. E. Case.

CHURCH WEDDING IS PRETTY EVENT

A pretty wedding took place at Trinity United church on Sept. 25 when Harriet Alberta (Betty), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Cook, Newmarket, became the bride of Cpl. John Marshall Holloway, R.C.A.F., Camp Borden, son of Mrs. Catherine Holloway, Toronto, and the late Albert V. Holloway. Attending the bride and groom are (left to right) Margaret Holloway, maid of honor, Albert Holloway, best man, both of Toronto, and Eileen Hughes, Newmarket, bridesmaid. Photo by Budd.

Gathering the Sport Facts

There's a lot to a number, that is, according to big league ball players. Numbers matter a great deal. Some say the old jinx number thirteen is lucky. The majority of them say just the opposite. Some players go for the lucky sevens and eights. They even get to quarrelling about them. The number seven or eleven on a ball player's uniform is supposed to give him that certain punch.

Listening to the world series games gave us the idea of looking up the numbers of some of the ball players. According to "Red" Barber and Bob Elson, Morten Cooper of the Cardinals always insists that he have the number thirteen uniform of the Cardinals. There are two other pitchers in the big leagues who insist on the number thirteen suit. They are Claude Passeau of the Chicago Cubs and Kirby Higbe of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The fact that they wear the number thirteen uniform doesn't seem to hurt the effectiveness of any of these three players. They are all first-class chuckers in any league. The Boston Braves, Philadelphia Phillies, Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants don't issue a number thirteen uniform. The reason is that no one in either club will wear it.

Every outfit in the big leagues has a number eleven on their roster. At least six of them carry a number seven. In this line-up are players for every position on the diamond. Even a coach is listed in the number seven.

He is Charley Dressen of the Dodgers. "King Carl" Hubbell of the Giants is the wearer of a number eleven outfit. Hubbell has been a success wearing that supposedly lucky number. With him it has been a good luck charm. Luke Hamlin, one of the brightest stars of the Toronto Maple Leafs this year, was the wearer of a number thirteen while playing in the minors. This year with the Maple Leafs he changed to a number sixteen. Perhaps the change was for the best. Hamlin certainly had a good year with Toronto.

FARMERS AND FARM WORKERS

If Your Farm Work has Slackened for the Winter, You Are Needed Elsewhere in Essential Employment

Highly essential work—very important in Canada's war effort and for the welfare of the Nation—is threatened with shortages of workers. One of the few sources of men available for other high priority jobs is those men on the farm who will not be needed at home during the Fall and Winter. Heavy needs must be met in many lines—producing fuel wood and other necessary forest products; in base metal mines, in food processing, in railway track maintenance. If you live on a farm and are not needed at home during the Fall and Winter, you are urged to answer this national appeal.

Farmers engaged in essential work during the off season will be allowed to return home when needed. Also, those on postponement under Mobilization Regulations will continue on postponement while in approved essential work during the slack on the farm.

Please answer this vital call NOW.

MOUNT ALBERT Citron Weighs 22 Lbs., Egg Contains Lesser Egg

Miss B. Harmon has a citron which weighs 22 pounds. It is on display in Steeper's window. Geo. Walsh had a freak egg this week which was a large one and when broken contained inside a second perfect egg, ordinary size, in one end of the shell. This seems to be an annual affair in Mr. Walsh's flock as he had a similar one last year.

Mount Albert Red Cross packed the following items this week: 12 prs. gloves, two alternate caps, seven prs. 18" seamen's socks, two baby jackets, two prs. baby booties, two baby bonnets, two quilts, 16 sheets, four dressing gowns, one bed jacket, three pantie dresses, blue, two grey skirts, red stripe blouse, four green silk blouses, seven civilian housewives.

She was in her 87th year and survived by two nieces, Mrs. Lillian North and Mrs. Kate Hawkins, and a nephew, Allan Brodie, Toronto, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Jas. Brodie, and a niece, Mrs. Dudley Heacock, Schomberg.

Horace Pearson and Roy Stewart are in charge of the Victory loan, so be ready for them when they call, and buy Victory bonds. Mrs. Carman Rolling, Jean and Gordon, have returned from western Canada, where they spent several months with Mr. Rolling, who is working on the Alaska highway.

Gnr. Robt. Lunau, Newfoundland, has been home on furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Lunau.

Rev. G. H. Carscadden, B.A., of Vroomantion and Victoria Corners United churches will be the guest speaker at Hartman church on Sunday evening for the anniversary service. The Mount Albert choir will assist with the musical numbers.

Mr. Carscadden will preach at Mount Albert at the morning service at 11 o'clock.

After several weeks of dry weather, the rains have made it much better for the farmers for their plowing and also filled many nearly empty cisterns around the community and settled the dusty roads.

Highway Plays Vital Role In Smashing Axis

An interesting paper on the Alaska highway, prepared by C. B. Mount, was read by Mrs. Jas. Wright of Vancor W.I. at a recent meeting of the Pine Orchard Institute. Mr. Mount enlisted in the army, but developed a heart condition. He got a job in a contractor's office on the Alaska highway.

The paper was based on a radio address given by J. Frank Willis, supervisor of CBC feature programs, following his trip along the Alaska highway. Mr. Willis entitled his paper "Up the Road Apiece." Excerpts from the address follow:

"The general direction of the road is from Dawson Creek, B.C., almost on the Alberta-British Columbia line, which you will find on your map 560 miles northwest of Edmonton, north from there to Fort St. John, Fort Nelson, Watson Lake in northern B.C., Teslin Lake, Whitehorse, Klunne lake in the Yukon and, finally, it winds into Fairbanks, Alaska.

"The country that lies along the road is the most beautiful and at the same time the most forbidding that I have ever seen. The rugged grandeur of the jagged upper reaches of the Rocky Mountains is on every hand. Much of the road lies in the great trough. From the high passes through which the road picks its way sudden immense sweeps of densely timbered valleys roll away into the nothingness of blue distance or end abruptly in sheer white peaks.

"So dense is the growth of hemlock, spruce and jack-pine that from the great height the whole effect is that of looking out over a huge well-tended lawn. Myriad lakes flash back the startling blue of the northern sky, or, if they are shallow, lie quiet and white under the wrap of winter.

"The United States corps of engineers allowed themselves one year to complete the job and then set out to beat their own estimate. Last March saw the one year mark. Trucks have been rolling over the whole length of the artery before that and the official opening was held on the Yukon-Alaska border in 1942, a full four months ahead of schedule.

"When one considers the immense amount of mobile equipment the United States army has, and can throw into service on this road, and further considers the seeming endless stream of materials for war that has begun to pour into the strategic bases in Alaska, it doesn't require the gift of second sight to see that something extremely unpleasant is brewing for our enemy in the Pacific. That is the immediate purpose of this greatest of engineering feats—to play a vital role in the smashing of the Axis junior partner."

TO THE EDITOR

Editor, The Era and Express: An inch or two of space in your valuable paper to point out that but a few days remain in which to get Christmas parcels for the boys overseas into the mails would be appreciated. Apart from whatever one may be sending personally to a particular soldier, sailor or airman, even a few cents to the Red Cross or to one of the church, club or other organizations sending community boxes will make some lad happy Christmas day. Nov. 1 is the last mailing day. Contributions should, therefore, be made now.

Col. the Hon. W. P. Mulock, postmaster-general and our own North York M.P., was one of the pioneers of the movement to maintain a steady stream of letters to the boys overseas, and to send them gifts particularly at Christmas time. He had many obstacles to overcome when shipping space was at a premium. Nazi wolf hounds roamed the Atlantic and every inch of space on a vessel was needed for troops and supplies, but "Bill" got letters, smokes and other comforts over to the soldiers and airmen by dint of hard work.

I learned accidentally the other day that he didn't delegate any of the job of securing space to subordinates, but took it all on personally, and there were times when he had to stave some of his Majesty's mail under the head in the captain's cabin to get it across. Then he set up a partly military and partly civil organization to get letters and parcels to the addressees wherever located and established the airgraph so that an entire letter could be sent almost as fast as a cable and at a cost of but a few cents.

"The point of it is that with the postal service tip top we have no excuse for not making sure that every home town had overseas know the meaning of the words 'Merry Christmas' this year. Let me thank you, Mr. Editor, for the space to reach your many readers, friends and neighbors when I lived in Newmarket. Sincerely yours, Mrs. W. E. Richmond Hill, Oct. 18

MUST HAVE JAM COUPONS

Jams and jellies, including the homemade varieties, may not be sold at church or charitable functions without the surrender of valid coupons. This interpretation of the now consolidated rationing order has been announced by the ration administration in response to numerous inquiries on the subject.

As previously announced, sale of homemade cakes and pastry, while not actually illegal, is being discouraged by the board. Sharing of rationed commodities at church or other meals, is permitted, but most social organizations have agreed not to serve essential foods at "fourth meals."

POLICE COURT

GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE FOR SELLING STOCKS

Found guilty of "unlawfully trading in securities without registration" contrary to the Securities Act, 70-year-old A. T. Stone, 23 Chudleigh Blvd., Toronto, was fined $100 and costs or two months in jail, in Newmarket police court Tuesday.

On a second charge, unlawfully calling at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Burrows, R. R. 1, Gormley, for the purpose of trading in securities, the defendant was sentenced to two months in prison, this term to run concurrently with the jail sentence on the first charge if the jail sentence is chosen. (If Mr. Stone pays the fine, he will still have the second jail term to serve.)

On a third charge, the defendant was given a similar sentence to that meted out on the second charge. This charge was unlawfully calling at the premises of Edwin Fenton, Vancor, for the purpose of trading securities with a member of the public. The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charges.

According to Mr. Burrows, he had purchased from Mr. Stone, in August, 1942, ten shares known as "Roxol Products" for $100, and his wife purchased $50 worth. He stated that the defendant had told him that he had purchased property in Gormley and was going to manufacture these products.

"What were the products he demonstrated to you, known as Roxol Products?" questioned Crown Attorney N. L. Mathews, K.C.

"There were various products, he said they were tried and good," replied the witness. "Some were kinds of flour to put in chicken feed. He said that a Miss Pogue was in the company and that they had been in with Happy Day and Connie Smythe."

Mr. Burrows went on to say that Mr. Ramage, a blacksmith in Gormley, who is a friend of his, first brought the defendant to his home. "How is the factory doing now?" asked the crown. "It fell through," replied the witness. He added that he understood that the defendant had paid a $100 down payment on the Baker property in Gormley, where he had intended to establish the factory.

Questioned by A. C. MacRobbie, counsel for the defence, Burrows stated that his wife had written the defendant on April 6 of this year asking for the return of their money, but failed to receive any reply to the letter. The money was returned after the charge was laid on Sept. 10.

Mrs. Elsie Burrows corroborated her husband's story and added that neither she nor her husband received any share certificates for their money.

Mr. Fenton testified that he had purchased $62 worth of stock and intended to buy $38 worth more when he received the managership of the factory in Gormley, a position promised to him by the defendant. He explained that the products were different kinds of fertilizer, linoleum cleaning products.

According to Mr. Ramage, Gormley, a blacksmith, he had not the defendant in 1941 through one of his customers. He said that he also bought $100 worth of shares from Mr. Stone, for which he did not receive any share certificates. He said that the defendant gave him a $500 certificate for shares in some mines and other properties as a gift.

Questioned by the defence, Mr. Ramage stated that he was present when Mr. Stone made a $100 down payment on the Baker property and promised to pay the balance of $5,000 in 30 days. Mr. Verity, an investigator of the Ontario Securities Commission, stated that he had made a search and found that the accused had no license to trade in securities. He said that the charter for Roxol Products was still in existence as a chartered company but that no returns had been made to the department for the last two or three years and its license to do business was cancelled in 1939.

Here the crown pointed out to the witness that according to the charter the company was a private company and a clause prohibited it from selling shares to the public. Miss Ada Pogue, Toronto, told his worship that she was the secretary-treasurer of Roxol Products Ltd. since the incorporation of the company and that the first factory began in Mount Dennis before it moved to Mark St. Her brother and Mr. Stone comprised the company. She stated that through the mismanagement of her brother the rent for the building at Mark St. fell into arrears, and that the landlord had the bailiffs make a seizure of the furniture and company records in 1939. The records cannot be obtained until the rent is paid.

Asked if the company had a bank book, she stated that there was a credit of $25 in the bank. She further stated that she had repaid Mr. and Mrs. Burrows and Mr. Fenton out of her own private funds.

Questioned as to the shares owned by Happy Day and Connie Smythe, she said that she had taken over the shares once held by them in 1939. She also stated that the company had manufactured products in 1939.

"Then neither of these men had any part in Roxol Products," commented the crown. "Mr. Stone had no right to sell what he held an interest in the company." The crown told his worship that Mr. Stone had had two previous convictions, once in 1928, when he was sentenced to one and a half years in jail on five charges of false pretences, and again in March, 1931, when he was fined $10 and costs for violation of the Securities Act.

Considerable length of time." Fines of $25 and costs each were imposed by his worship on two motorists. They are Blanche Woodcock, Toronto, and Fred C. Thomas, Waterdown, Ont. The former was fined by Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson on Yonge St. and the latter by County Constable Watt.

Those fined $15 and costs each were: Margaret H. Long, Orillia, who was fined by Constable Ferguson, Harvey Eddy, Hamilton, and Louis Demers, Toronto, who were fined by Constable Watt, and Gordon L. Lemon, Toronto, who was fined by Constable George Foster in Georgina.

W. Garfat, Aurora, was fined $5 and costs for exceeding the speed limit in Newmarket. Constable Kenneth Mount fined the defendant.

Fines of $1 and costs were imposed on Vern. Memon, Newmarket, Percy W. Orton, Toronto, and Ray Funnell, Kettleby, for illegal parking in Newmarket. In each case Constable Mount laid the charge.

For failing to have a driver's license Frederick Lewis, Newmarket, was fined $10 and costs.

Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe found E. C. Mingay, Aurora, gasoline station proprietor, guilty on a charge of unlawfully selling grade gasoline for which he did not receive valid coupons from the customer at the time of the sale, and fined him $50 and costs of $3 or 30 days in jail. The defendant pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Mr. Bambridge, an investigator for the wartime prices and trade board, said that the defendant, who owns a gasoline station on Yonge St., just north of Aurora, has three gasoline tanks with a capacity of 1,500 gallons in all. He said that on April 1 the defendant had made an inventory which he sent into the oil controller, as he is required to do by law, in which he stated that he had 800 gallons on hand. On May 21, when he visited Mr. Mingay's premises, at a time when the defendant's son was in charge of the station, there was a net shortage of 213 gallons.

According to Mr. Mogan, also an investigator of the wartime prices and trade board, he had visited the premises of Mr. Mingay on June 18, at which time he found a net shortage of 259 gallons and again on June 26, when he found a net shortage of 266 gallons. He said that he had checked the gasoline in the tanks and the coupons received from the customers on each occasion that he visited the station.

Questioned by Lorne C. Lee, Aurora, who acted for the prosecution, the witness stated that in some cases where there are shortages of gasoline these shortages are accounted for by leakage of the gasoline tanks or by the operator mislaying coupons. He said that in these cases the proprietor is asked to check on his coupons or find out if the tanks are leaking. If there is a leakage they report it to the oil controller. He said that in the case of Mr. Mingay, the defendant, although told to check his coupons and his tanks, failed to make a report to the department.

Questioned by defence counsel,

Charles Evans, Bradford, as to whether he knew if the accused had sold gasoline without receiving valid coupons, the witness stated that he could not say.

Mr. Loughheed, another investigator, stated that when he investigated on June 14 there was a net shortage of 265 gallons and that he suggested to Mr. Mingay that there might be a leakage due to the pumps. He said that it was up to the supplier and the operator to get together and find the reason for the losses and then report to the oil controller. He said that no report was sent in.

Harold F. Hughes, investigator of the wartime prices and trade board, who laid the complaint, told his worship that on investigating on July 15 he found a gross shortage of 411 gallons and a net shortage of 328 gallons.

In his defence Mr. Mingay said that he operated a transport business and most of the time left his station in the charge of his wife and son. He denied at any time selling gasoline to a customer without receiving coupons equivalent to the amount of gasoline purchased. He gave as his reason for the shortage that he might have made a mistake when sending in his report on April 1, and put down more gasoline than he actually had. He also stated that as he did not lock his tanks gasoline could have been stolen.

Both Mrs. Mingay, wife of the defendant, and her son, William, testified that at no time did they sell gasoline without receiving coupons from the customers.

"I am not satisfied in this case, and there will be a conviction," stated Magistrate Woodliffe. "Allowing for the fact that he might have made a mistake on April 1, since then he has had shortages." Concluding that there was not sufficient evidence to convict Harry Amodeo, Whitechurch township, on a charge of theft of a quantity of wood, valued under $25, from the provincial reforestation property at Vivian, Magistrate Woodliffe dismissed the charge.

Frank Hollidge, Whitechurch, employed by the government as caretaker of the reforestation area, said that he and Constable Windsor had cut dead wood from the forest and placed it in a pile on the reforestation area near the eighth concession. On Oct. 10 and Oct. 13, while making an inspection, he found some of the wood missing and noticed automobile tracks leading to the Amodeo home.

According to Constable Windsor, he and Mr. Hollidge visited Mr. Amodeo's premises on Oct. 13 and found some of the wood in a pile at the south side of the house. He said that he could identify this wood as that taken from the pile on the government area.

Mr. Amodeo told his worship that he was discharged from the army a short time ago because of his health and had a good army record. He had returned from overseas. He said that he had just moved to the district and purchased the wood for $3 a single cord from a man who came to his home. He could not give the name of the person from whom he had made the purchase.

"It is very difficult to establish identity of wood," commented his worship. "I admit that there is some suspicion, but I think in this case the accused is entitled to the benefit of the doubt and I am going to dismiss the charge."
